

OTHER WAR TALKERS.

The gold bugs who are trying to discount Francis Newlands' patriotic war utterances should take note of the fact that Senator Chandler of New Hampshire and Senator Lodge of Massachusetts are as radical on the war question as Mr. Newlands or anybody else could be, but the gold press and the patronage politicians of Nevada have never a word to say against them because they are Republicans. If Mr. Newlands only trained with the gold men of the House those who are now abusing him would be singing paeans in his praise. Several Populists in Reno who heard his speech commend it highly and regret that through misstatements they were induced to vote against him a year ago.

Mr. Newlands voted for the Dingley Tariff bill and against Mr. Reed's bond bill. He declares that he will not vote for the railroad funding bill, and he prefers war and financial independence to being enslaved by the gold trust. His course does not seem to suit the place hunters of this State, but it is endorsed by four-fifths of the people.

The Brown-Davidson scandal, which it at present taking up considerable space in the San Francisco papers, is read with much interest by the people of this town. It will be remembered that Brown, the principal in this disgraceful scandal, is the same man who, during the railroad strike of 1894, made himself obnoxious to the citizens of Winnemucca, by his insulting and overbearing manner. He happened to be a passenger on one of the trains which was detained here for about two weeks by the strikers, and although this minister of the gospel was here treated like a gentleman, he proved to be a cad and a hypocrite, returning all courtesies shown him, when ready to leave, by insinuations and insults. This great minister of the First Congressional Church of San Francisco, after accepting courtesies from a brother minister here, even to delivering a sermon in his Church, refused to take the hand which was extended him at parting by a man superior to him in virtue and intellect. Brown's words as his train pulled out were: "He who laughs last laughs best." The impression he made on the people of this town at that time was not of the best and now that he is being shown up in his true colors in the Brown-Davidson scandal, his guilt in the shameful affair is not doubted by the people of this town, for such a scoundrel is capable of anything.—Silver State.

Reno Boodlers.

The Journal is having the same kind of a tussle in Reno with the County Commissioners as the APPEAL has had in this county for years. The law against Commissioners being interested in county contracts is very severe. A violation of it means loss of office and service in the penitentiary. All money taken illegally from the treasury can be recovered by a suit brought by any taxpayer. The felony clause of the statute outlaws in three years, but the right of any taxpayer to sue and recover does not outlaw. The Journal charges that T. K. Hymers a County Commissioner lets contracts to his pets has the claims assigned to him and then passes on them.

He is thus clearly interested in the contract and comes under the section of the statute making such offenses felonious. If the Grand Jury and District Attorney do not proceed a private citizen can.

The APPEAL broke up the system in Ormsby county after a hard fight and the Journal can do it in Washoe if it only goes about in the right way.

The Transvaal incident will serve the United States admirably in one way, it will emphasize the claim made that England's policy is one of acquisition, not by conquest, but by adroit diplomacy and unblushing effrontery of claim. Nothing could have happened more for our hand in aid of our position as to Venezuela and the Monroe doctrine than the attempt of Jameson to invade the rights of the Boers. It uncovered an English policy that otherwise might have had but little public attention. This word has been passed at this, the tail end of the century, and it goes to England in this terse sentence, "stop crowding."

The State Library has just received two new books by Nevada authors: "A Daughter of the Tenement," by Ned Townsend author of "Chimney Fadden," and "Gallegher" by R. H. Davis.
